Dear Honorable Trenga,

I hope this message finds you well.

I am writing to respectfully request your reconsideration in reissuing a check from the Capitol One Settlement related to the Capital One Consumer Data Security Breach Litigation, MDL No 1:19md2915 (AJT/JFA). Although it is past the court-mandated deadline, I hope you will make an exception after hearing my story.

When I received the settlement offer, I opted to receive a check mailed to me without my apartment number. I believe it was returned to the issuer and resent to me again without the apartment number. It ended up in my neighbor's mailbox, and I did not receive it until February 5, 11 days after the deadline to reissue the check had passed. I immediately contacted the Settlement Administrator on February 6, but they could not help me. Therefore, I am contacting you directly in the hope that you will reconsider my request.

As a single, middle-aged Latina who started her own business in 2020, the $707.31 award would significantly impact my life. I support myself and help care for my elderly parents, who live in California, and I employ a part-time assistant who helps me with my business. The money would help me cover expenses crucial to my daily life.

Here are some examples:

- 1.5 round-trip airline tickets to California to care for my parents,
- Five months' worth of groceries
- 2.5 months of utilities
- One month's partial rent
- A year's worth of dog food.

I submitted all the required documentation to qualify for the claim and was awarded the settlement. It was a clerical error that prevented me from cashing the check, and I hope you can understand that it was beyond my control. I have included a photocopy of the required documentation for your review. There are two copies – one is a copy of the original letter that includes my notes and a cleaner version for your review. A copy of the mailing envelope is also included. I have also emailed this letter to you at Anthony_Trenga@vaed.uscourts.gov.

In conclusion, I am kindly requesting your reconsideration in reissuing the check. It would make a significant difference in my life, and I would be forever grateful for your understanding and assistance. Thank you in advance for your kind consideration.

All my best,
Lisa Labrado
